

Urgent Care Association of America

Michael Kulczycki, MBA

Michael Kulczycki is the Executive Director for the Ambulatory Care Accreditation Program at The Joint Commission. In this role, he directs business development, strategic direction and overall product line management for the Ambulatory Care and Office-Based Surgery Accreditation Programs. These two programs – exhibiting 90% annual growth in customers since 2002 – now cover over 1,800 accredited ambulatory organizations nationwide. He is a frequent speaker on the topic of ambulatory care accreditation to national, corporate and state groups each year, and publishes and is quoted extensively in ambulatory media sources.

Kulczycki has more than 30 years of experience in managing and marketing health care organizations and other entities. Before joining The Joint Commission in 2002, he previously served as principal officer of M.Carl Enterprises, Oak Park, Illinois, which provided management consultant services to not-for-profit organizations. Kulczycki also served as CEO of The Alliance for Healthcare Strategy and Marketing, Chicago, Illinois and Executive Director of the Illinois Home Care Council in Chicago.

Kulczycki is a Certified Association Executive (CAE) who was awarded an ASAE Fellow by the American Society of Association Executives. He holds a master's degree in Business Administration from the Kellogg School of Management of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois and earned his bachelor of arts degree in Communication Arts from the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana.
