

Urgent Care Association of America

Patrice Pash, RN, BSN, COHC

Patrice Pash is currently Director of Operations and Consulting for National Med Network. Prior to that, she was the Assistant Director of Clinical Services for Physicians Immediate Care Occupational Care Network in Northern Illinois. She spent nine years as a paramedic/firefighter in South Florida, Southern Pennsylvania and Northern Illinois prior to obtaining her BSN. Her medical background includes pre-hospital emergency medicine, cardiology and occupational health. Pash has been an American Heart Association instructor for CPR/AED, ACLS and BTLIS, as well as an adjunct instructor for Rock River Region EMS. She currently holds certification as an instructor for evidential breath alcohol testing and CPC for drug screen collections through DATIA. She is also a trainer for OSHA compliance.

Pash has over twelve years experience with Physicians Immediate Care, during which time she has been instrumental in the start-up of numerous new and expansion urgent care facilities. She oversees the inventory management and supply vendor negotiations for their multiple clinic sites. In addition, she is instrumental in staff training and development and co-wrote Physicians Immediate Care's training manual for clinical staff.

As a consultant to new urgent care startups, she has assisted with over a ninety- five new centers across the United States. Her practical experience in urgent care leads to first-hand insight on floor planning, maximizing patient flow, capital equipment needs and clinic setup as well as staffing, training and day-to-day operations.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Pash is a die-hard Steelers fan. She has been married to her husband, David, for fourteen years and they have two young sons.
