

May Newsletter

May 13, 2010

Headlines

- FINAL Registration Deadline Approaching
- JUCM Wins Three ASHPE Awards
- 10 Basic Office Technologies for Urgent Care
- Clinical Consult: Acute Gout in Urgent Care
- Board of Directors Candidates and Election
- AACRM Confirms Accreditation for Core Content in Urgent Care Medicine
- Free Clinical Webcasts

FINAL Deadline to Register for Convention Approaching

Registration for the Urgent Care Convention in Orlando closes next Friday, May 21. If you are considering "walking in" - please don't! Many of the pre-con courses are very close to sellout, and there is a $100 on-site registration fee added to the late tuition rates.

Register by May 21!

Journal of Urgent Care Medicine Wins Three ASHPE Awards

We are delighted to announce that JUCM has won three awards from the American Society of Healthcare Publications Editors - one for a Letter from the Editor, and two for graphics. This is a set of very prestigious awards in the publishing community - congratulations to Remember the online community we mentioned in March?

Check out Members Only (via any page on the website) and see where it takes you!

More to come in June ...

our Journal partners!

Top 10 Article: Ten Basic Office Technologies for Every Urgent Care

Alan Ayers, UCAOA's Practice Management Content Advisor, explores how low-cost technology can translate to efficiency and service gains for your center.

Clinical Consult: Acute Gout in Urgent Care

This month's feature from Dr. Phillip Disraeli, UCAOA's Director of Clinical Programs, provides insight on the best way to diagnose and treat gout in urgent care.

2010 Board of Directors Candidates and Election

Candidate information is still available to review prior to the election on May 26. Click here for candidate profiles and webinars covering their background and vision for UCAOA. If you can't attend the meeting to vote, please submit a proxy form by May 21.

Accreditation Confirmed for Core Content in Urgent Care Medicine by the Australian College of Rural and Remote Medicine

With urgent care continuing to grow rapidly in Australia, fellows of the AACRM can now take Core Content in Urgent Care Medicine for credit towards their Professional Development Program.

For more information about this comprehensive clinical competency program for urgent care practitioners click here.